INSTRUCTOR: Douglas Prince

Douglas Prince is a painter, art director, and educator with over 25 years of industry experience, combining hands-on production expertise with international teaching and workshops.

His multidisciplinary background spans traditional media—oil painting, acrylics, gouache, and watercolor—as well as digital disciplines including concept art for environments and characters.

Now based in Wiesbaden—not far from where his great-great-grandfather Arthur Hutschenreuther worked as a painter—Douglas brings both experience and artistic heritage to Wiesbaden.

Through Studio Fabuloso, Douglas has coestablished a dedicated painting studio in the Rhine Valley, grounded in the methods he developed while working and teaching in professional production environments worldwide. His approach is shaped by decades of collaboration with artists across multiple disciplines and cultures.

Alongside his professional work, Douglas is an experienced educator who has taught and lectured in Germany, Chile, and the United States, including at Media Design Hochschule Berlin, Games Academy Berlin, and Austin Community College, Game Academy.
